

April KinsKlub Report - Kris Berg, KinsKlub Coordinator

Don't let April Fool you! With Spring Break timing this year we didn't have to endure the shenanigans of April Fools day this year. Whew! We did have many false Spring days before settling into real Spring. With real Spring here the kids are definitely getting Spring fever. They are excited seeing the barricades up in the parking lot knowing that means a backyard is starting to be in the near future. We are all excited to have an outdoor space for the kinskids to play and move and be loud in! We have been busy talking and working on projects related to April Showers brings May Flowers (hint at May's plans). We have held a coloring contest for all of our kinskids. Winners are proudly displayed on the front doors. Other spring art work is popping up through the building as well.

The kids are now busy finishing off their mini book projects and have been working on their covers and author descriptions. They are doing some really nice creative work on their books.

We are getting very close to having a Gotcha celebration as we only have a very few kinskids left to catch at doing something above and beyond. Woot! One of our newest kinskids earned a Gotcha before she even knew what it was – best part is that another kinskid spotted her doing “extra” and came to point it out to me. When they start noticing the good in others coming through that's progress! We are working on helping them identify whether what they are telling us is Tattling or Telling. Tattling being with the intent to get someone else in trouble vs Telling us something that's happening that could cause someone harm or something to celebrate.

Hoping the weather has put a Spring in your steps like it has the kinskids!
